Position Statement:

Why do you want to be elected to this position?

After having put a lot of input into the Project team, I would like to branch out and see what the other parts of EWB-OSU are doing.

What skills or strengths do you bring to EWB in this role?

I am an excellent organizer and planner. I have spent a long time delegating and training others to work in projects, and now that I am comfortable in the El Salvador project team, I want to expand my skills to work in an executive position.

What has your involvement in EWB-OSU been to date?

I have been a team planner for the El Salvador project. I was responsible for the design of the OGC project, where I was also coordinating the materials and schedule. I was a traveler for the Dec 2007 trip to El Salvador, where I was the lead designer for the piping system and lead builder for the concrete work- interfacing with the PCV and Engineer to make our project finish on time and within budget (Money and Material). I am currently a contributor/ advisor for the summer TAC proposal.

What are your goals for EWB-OSU for the next year?

I would like to see the Bio-diesel project expand to a completed project. The local representation of EWB-OSU is not as visible, and in order to be more visible in our community, we need to be more active locally also. The University is another potential advertiser for us, and to follow up on our success last banquet would be a strong step to raise the funds needed for our projects. A new project idea is a very good beginning, but in order to fund both El Salvador and a new projet, we wil have to be doing more for the funding and membership commitments.

What is your time commitment ability? How much of your time can you dedicate to furthering the mission of EWB?

I am available most evenings, where I am currently committing 5+ hours a week and every Monday evening.

Why are you involved with EWB?

I initially joined EWB to learn how to operate in a non-military leadership role, and now that I am satisfied with that learning process, I am beginning to think farther ahead to post-college, and how these activities will be received by my peers.

It will be even more important to raise awareness for the importance of students to become active in an organization (preferably EWB) regardless of the type to improve their skills and world view. These world-wide viewpoints will become more important as the world becomes more integrated into one community.
